WITH the coming of winter housewives in Shanghai are anxiously speculating whether they shall have to pay high prices for their coal. From an examination of the situation it seems unlikely that Japanese coal used so largely in Shanghai households to give heat will register any advance this winter owing to the fact that by the destruction of the numerous industrial plants in Tokio and Yokohama by the earthquake and fire there will be a surplus rather than any shortage in supplies. During the cold days we draw larger amounts of coal from Japan, the imports marking an increase of some fifty percent. over other periods. During the winter the consumption of coal in this Settlement amounts to some 20,000 tons monthly.

At present arrivals of Japanese coal into Shanghai are good, averaging some 30,000 to 40,000 tons per month. The price of Japanese No. 1 lump coal remains unchanged at Tls. 12.50 per ton ex-godown Shanghai, and of No. 2 Tls. 11.50 per ton ex-godown. Japanese dust coal No. 1 is rated at Tls. 10.00 per ton and No. 2 at Tls. 8.00 per ton. There is a steady demand and although supplies are not overflowing yet they are sufficient for present needs, with prospects of steady arrivals in the future.

STOCKS IN SHANGHAI

Present stocks in Shanghai of all coal are estimated at 250,000 tons, of which some 180,000 tons, comprise Japanese. Shanghai supplies of Kailan coal are large, the price of Kailan No. 1 being today Tls. 11.00 per ton and No. 2, Tls. 10 per ton.

It will be interesting to see what action the coal miners in Japan will take to cope with the increased stocks likely to result. Before the earthquake Tokio and Yokohama consumed three million tons of coal a year. The loss of these two markets for Japanese coal will mean that the coal mines will have to find new outlets for at least a million tons of coal after assuming that they could sell to Osaka and other cities some 800,000 tons. The question of curtailing output is already being discussed seriously, and although at the moment no decision appears to have been arrived at, the general opinion amongst the Japanese coal mine operators seems to favor a diminishing of production by some ten percent on a million-and-a-quarter tons of coal for the six months ending March last. Curtailment of production has been in force for some years, and the probability is that the mine operators in order to deal with the million tons extra output might be constrained to go in more strongly on curtailment.

There are some who are of the opinion that the surplus will be absorbed by the increasing number of ships calling at the Japanese ports with relief supplies. The coal freights have advanced. The advance is due to the great demand for smaller vessels, a good many of which have been chartered for the transportation of relief stores.

A HONGKONG PROJECT

The Hongkong Development Building and Savings Society, Ltd. is being floated with capital of ten million dollars, divided into a million shares of ten dollars each, of which 169,000 shares have already been subscribed by the directors. For the balance applications are being called for, a dollar per share to be paid on allotment. In recent months there have been a number of flotations in Hongkong making building development a specialty.

The board of directors of the present concern is a fairly representative one. The subscription list will open on November 14 and close on November 23.

The optimistic tone of the promoters borders on the extreme. For instance in an interview published in the Hongkong papers with the managing director of the concern, Mr. F. Ellis, an emphatic assertion is made that the company will pay a dividend on the first working year. The motto of this concern, it appears, is going to be to assist people in Hongkong to build and to build for them.

The aims of this new Hongkong concern are laudable indeed, and we wish all its objects will be attained. The promoters are sanguine about the results. The plan seems ambitious, and if only a portion of it is achieved it would deserve well of the community in Hongkong. The principal object of the concern is to build houses in the Colony with a view to meeting the great demand for housing accommodation which exists there at the present time. Not content with building alone, it is going to make its own bricks and have it own saving bank. The object apparently is to encourge people in Hongkong to save sufficient money to provide a margin towards building a home. It is given out that the company intends to builds 800 homes. If it succeeds in this respect then it would deserve well.

MUSSOLINI CHINA'S NEED, ASSERTS SIR JOHN JORDAN

Former Diplomat Makes Frank Address At London

BRITISH RIGHTS

Treaties Cannot Be Modified Or Abandoned

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 8.—Sir John Jordan, presiding at a dinner of the China Association last night, drew attention to China's loss of foreign prestige, concurrently with which disorganisation had become much worse. In his opinion, China could congratulate herself that the Lincheng affair had not been submitted to a diplomatic tribunal in Europe, which, judging from recent precedent, would probably have condemned her to much heavier damages.

Referring to attacks on shipping on the Yangtsze, Sir John warmly commended the orders of the American Government to return fire, 'contending that direct action was likely to be more effective than circuitous orders from the Peking Government.

Dealing with extraterritoriality, Sir John Jordan unhesitatingly affirmed that there could be no question of abandoning or modifying British treaty rights (cheers). He dealt with the 2½ percent increase in the Customs revenue, declaring that if a special conference considering the question imposed this additional tax irrespective of reduction or abolition of likin, it would fail to carry out the spirit of the Washington Agreement and would violate the Treaty of 1902, on which the agreement was based. He hoped that the conference would be enlarged to deal with the whole fiscal situation and thus further political reunification of the country, some form of which was essential as a precedent for the solution of the Chinese problem and all efforts should be concentrated on it

Sir John expressed the opinion that only two alternatives would save China, either an agreement between all parties to co-operate in regeneration of the appearance of a Chinese Mussolini.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 8.—The Times, commenting on Sir John Jordan's speech at the dinner of the China Association last night, says that the Powers may bring their policy into more effective contact with realities if for the present they take into account those actually exercising regional authority in any part of China, while the rival Chinese generals and administrators might thereby find an opportunity of composing their differences.

Franklin Springs Surprise By Agreeing To Introduction Of Chang And Tu Letters

Arms Cases Against Captain Kearny In U. S. Court Submitted Without Argument—Briefs To Be Filed

Completely surprising the prosecution and the Court Mr. C. S. Franklin, counsel for Captain L. D. Kearny, yesterday arose in the United Court for China at the beginning of the session supposedly called for the final argument in the Kearny arms cases and agreed to the stipulation suggested by U. S. District Attorney Leonard G. Husar which admits into the evidence two important letters from Civil Governor Chang of Chekiang and Admiral H. K. Tu, Commander-in-Chief of the Chinese Navy.

Mr. Farnklin's action came as a complete surprise because in the last days of the hearing in the cases in which Captain Kearny was charged with the importation of arms and munitions of war from Russian refugee vessels at Woosung and Gensan, Korea, he had unequivocally refused to join in the stipulation with the District Attorney and insisted upon the depositions of both Governor Chang and Admiral Tu being taken.

VITAL EVIDENCE

Mr. Franklin's agreement is of considerable importance in the Kearny cases because while Admiral Tu's letter absolves Captain Kearny from dealing in arms and proclaims him the official advisor of the Chinese Navy acting under instructions from Admiral Tu in removing the munitions from the Russian ships at Woosung and shipping them to Nanking, the letter from Governor Chang of Hangchow denies that Kearny acted for him in the purchase of arms from vessels in Korea.

All evidence in the Kearny cases except the testimony of Governor Chang and Admiral Tu was taken some time ago. Postponements were granted the defense by Judge Charles S. Lobingier in order to give them the opportunity of securing depositions from the two vital Chinese witnesses, after Mr. Franklin had omitted verbally to keep the letters from Governor Chang out of the record. Just before the trial closed Mr. Husar offered the letter from Governor Chang in evidence but it was not allowed to go in the record after Mr. Franklin had objected.

REFUSED ONCE

On the closing day of the trial Mr. Husar sprung a surprise by offering to admit the letter from Admiral Tu, which Mr. Franklin wished to have put in the record for the defense, on condition that Mr. Franklin would admit a letter favoring the prosecution from

U. S. Awaits Reply From France On Inquiry Plan

(Exclusive China Press)

Washington, Nov. 7.—Officials at the State Department are withholding their decision on the question of American participation in the proposed inter-allied inquiry regarding Germany's capacity to pay the reparations fixed by the Versailles treaty until an answer to the questions put by Secretary of State Hughes to Ambassador Jusserand of France at their interview on Monday can be received from Premier Poincare.

In the meantime, there has been no comment from official sources on the proposed conference or the possibility of American participation. It is reported on good authority, however, that the United States does not intend to have the question of French occupation of the Ruhr and discussion regarding its legality and duration brought up at the conference.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Order has been restored in Berlin following the looting and rioting during the past few days which marked the big increases in the prices of living essentials. Apprehension regarding the situation here cannot be entirely dismissed, however, because of the constant increase in unemployment. The police are preparing themselves for further emergencies. The number of pillagers and rioters arrested so far total 530.

NO CHANGE IS REGISTERED IN U. S. ELECTION

Republicans Lose Kentucky In Voting On New Governor

(BY UNITED PRESS)

New York, Nov. 8.—Municipal and state elections in thirteen states yesterday show that neither the Republicans or Democrats are able to claim any great reversal in the sentiments of the nation's voters as shown in the last general election.

With the exception of Kentucky, where a Democratic Governor was elected to replace a Republican, and elections were given over to municipal affairs where neither party showing any added strength. Kentucky is normally a Democratic state and was merely returning to form in electing a Bourbon governor.

There was small indication of any growing prohibition sentiment in the elections, but the wet have no cause for jollification either as they received little or no encouragement. The Klu Klux Klan, however, gained impressive victories in Ohio, marking its first successful onslaught in a middle Northern state.

Miss Mary Barteleme, for many years a noted social service worker in Chicago, was elected a Circuit Judge. It is the first time in the history of Illinois that a woman has been elected to the judiciary.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Nov. 7.—Elections in various parts of the country have not caused the political barometer to change greatly. Perhaps the most outstanding result was the election of Mr. W. J. Field as Governor of Kentucky, whereas in 1920 the Republicans carried the State by a considerable majority. Republicans in Vermon have elected Mr. Porterdale to the United States Senate in succession to the late Senator Dillingham. Seven of nine vacanices in the House of Representatives were filled without changing the Republican majority in the lower House. The Republicans have increased their majority in the New York Assembly, whilst the entire Democratic Supreme Court judiciary of New York have been elected, much to the chagrin of Mr. Hearst, who had endeavored to split the ranks of the Democrats. One of the most interesting features of the elections was the Ku Klux Klan entering for the first time into Ohio municipal politics. Mayors having the Klan's endorsement were elected for Youngstown, Portsmouth, Akron and several smaller cities.

PREFERENCE IS DEBATED AGAIN AT CONFERENCE

Dominions Will Benefit By New Duties Against Foreign Goods

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—The Imperial Economic Conference today again discussed Imperial preference on the report of the sub-committee appointed to deal with the question. All the Dominion representatives expressed gratitude to the British Government for the offer to increase preference.

Reuter's Agency understands that the British Government today announced further preferences, which are expected considerably to benefit the Dominions. They take the form of new duties against foreigners while the Dominions' product will be free. It is believed that the new duties proposed include 55s. per cwt. on apples, 10s. 6d. per cwt. on honey, and 6d. per gallon on fruit juices, which are largely used in England in the manufacture of jams. It is understood that preference on Dominion heavy wines will be increased from one-third to two-thirds, and it is believed that the Government is further considering an increase in preference on sparkling wines.

CINEMA MAN SLAYS SELF AFTER BRIDE TAKES POISON

Hugo Amberg And Wife In Double Tragedy At Hongkong

LOVERS' QUARREL

Husband Ends Life In Police Station Courtyard

(Special To The China Press)

Hongkong, Nov. 8.—A lovers' quarrel between Mr. Hugo Amberg, Far Eastern representative of the Universal Film Corporation of the United States, and his young and pretty bride of a few months ended here Tuesday night with the death of both.

Mrs. Amberg swallowed bichloride of mercury in her room at the Hongkong Hotel following the quarrel, and Amberg, learning that his wife was not likely to recover, jumped over the verandah of the Central Police station and died on the pavement thirty feet below from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Amberg arrived in Hongkong on the s.s. Devanha and stopped over a few days en route to Manila. On Monday evening they quarreled in their rooms at the Hongkong Hotel and Mrs. Amberg, unstrung by the first disagreement in their married life that began last September, went into the bathroom and swallowed the poison.

She was immediately rushed to a hospital and everything possible done for her. On Tuesday Mr. Amberg went to the Central Police station to make a report of the incident to the police. While he was being questioned an officer telephoned to the hospital and inquired concerning Mrs. Amberg's condition. Amberg overheard the report that Mrs. Amberg's condition was hopeless and immediately jumped up, ran to the verandah overlooking the courtyard thirty feet below, and jumped over. His crumpled body was picked up a few seconds later by police who saw the mad act but were unable to stop him.

Mrs. Amberg died in the hospital 12 hours after her husband's suicide.

Mr. N. Westwood, local manager for the Universal Motion Picture Corporation, at 122 Szechuen Road, has received no additional information concerning the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Amberg in Hongkong. Mr. Westwood's only information before he was given the details by The China Press was a brief telegram from Hongkong informing him that Mr. Amberg was dead and that Mrs. Amberg was not expected to live.

Mr. Amberg, according to Mr. Westwood, was about 32 years of age. He was originally with the Universal Motion Picture Corporation in the United States but upon the outbreak of the war, being a German subject, returned to Germany and served through the World War as a German officer.

After the war he returned to the United States and re-entered the service of the Universal corporation. When he was chosen as the Far Eastern representative, a territory comprising Japan, China, the Straits, India and Java, he returned to Germany and was married to his war-time sweetheart. He had been in the Far East about two years and was last in Shanghai last November.

RUSS OUTLOOK HOPEFUL, SAYS BRITISH PARTY

Brother Of Prime Minister Confident Moscow Will Pull Through

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—"The general impression we have brought back as to the recovery of Russia is one of hope," is the statement of Mr F. L. Baldwin, a brother of the British Prime Minister and the leader of a party of British businessmen who have just returned from an investigation of trading prospects in Russia.

"Recovery will be a long job," Mr. Baldwin continued, "unless the Russian Government gets some outside help, but, if it cannot, I am still confident it can pull through unaided. It is working hundred now and the general economic conditions are not too bad.

"I gathered the peasant is fairly contented and, after all, he is the bulk of the population. As to the factory workers, they are all paid on a piece work basis, and are working harder than they did before the War.

"Much hard labor has to be done owing to the country having been depleted of mechanical aids, both with regard to agricultural and factory work. On our way from Moscow to Petrograd we saw men reaping with hand sickles.

"Undoubtedly there is a trade opening in Russia for agricultural machinery, and also for all things connected with transport, both railway and motor. The Russians are asking also for such things as sawmill plants and mining materials, while there is an abnormal demand for the ordinary necessities of life. The Russians, as a matter of fact, want about fifty times as much as they are getting."

Motor Car Man Will Also Welcome Consignment Of New Buicks

Mr. H. S. Honigsberg, of H. S. Honigsberg and Co., Inc., is leaving this morning on the President Grant for Japan, where he will meet Mrs. Honigsberg on her return from a ten months' sojourn in America and Europe. Mrs. Honigsberg went to the States ten months ago primarily to have an operation performed upon her nose. Following this her physicians advised a trip to Europe, and Mrs. Honigsberg's many Shanghai friends will be glad to learn that her recovery and recuperation have been complete. Mr. and Mrs. Honigsberg will return to Shanghai on the President McKinley.

On the same ship on which Mrs. Honigsberg is returning to Shanghai are some other "friends" in which the popular "Sol" is greatly interested, namely, a consignment of fifteen of the new 1924 Buick motor-cars—first of these much heralded models to reach the East. Mr. Honigsberg has been anxiously awaiting the arrival of these new cars for several weeks, and while he does not expect the first consignment to last long, he will be glad to see them just the same. The 1924 Buicks are equipped with four wheel brakes, and will be the first cars thus equipped to reach here from America.

Mr. Honigsberg will be accompanied to Japan on the Grant by Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Ricks, manager in North China for the Honigsberg Company. Mr. and Mrs. Ricks are leaving for home on a business and pleasure trip, and while in America Mr. Ricks will visit all the General Motors factories. They expect to return in March.

Sailing on the Grant with the Honigsberg party will be Mr. W. T. Whalen, manager of the Far Eastern Division of the General Motors Export Corporation, and Mr. J. Paddock, in charge of General Motors interests in Japan. Mr. Whalen is completing a 'round the world trip for his company, and recently returned to Shanghai from Peking and Tientsin, where he was accompanied by Mr. Honigsberg on a tour of inspection and investigation.

Paris, Nov. 7.—The Temps reports that the German People's Party are showing a desire for a rapprochement with the German Nationalists. Negotiations have already been begun between the Chancellor and Herr Oskar Hergt but the Democrats and Centre Coalitionists are opposed to this arrangement. The Right newspapers show the impression produced on them by the action of the Centre and Left parties and deny any intention of making a coup by force.

The German floating debt on November 2 reached approximately 10,000,000,000,000,000,000 (ten quintillion) marks.

The Temps states that the provisional Government of the Rhineland Republic has renewed the full powers given to Dr. Dorten and Herr Matthes. The Rhineland troops have entered the Palatinate under the direction of Dr. Dorten and are being supported by the troops of the local movement. The autonomy of the Palatinate within the Rhineland Republic has been proclaimed. Herr Heinz, the president of the Palatinate and Hesse associations, has been appointed Commissioner-General for the Rhineland Republic in the territory of the Palatinate.

M. Maginot, the Minister of War, arrived this morning at Duesseldorf and conferred with General Degoutte and the High Commissioner, M. Tirard. In the course of his tour of the Ruhr the Minister of War concerned himself with the installation of cantonments and eventual improvements.

Paris, Nov. 7.—It is reported son closes about the middle of this month.

from Berlin that in pursuance of their decision, reached on October 30, the Conference of Ambassadors have handed a Note to Germany categorically demanding immediate resumption of military supervision by the Inter-Allied Mission, the officers of which shall execute their duties in uniform and whose operations shall extend to all parts of the country, including Bavaria. The Note specifies that coercive measures are to be employed by all the Allies unless the Conference's demands are immediately complied with.

Paris, November 7.—The Temps writes: "Talking yesterday to the President of the United States, the French Ambassador received proof of President Coolidge's high ideals and friendship for our country. The American Government is equally ready to aid Europe if it finds an opportunity, or to stand aside if its help does not appear possible. If it intervenes, it will act as a friend of France. We are happy", the journal concludes, "to register these excellent intentions, a reflection of which is found in various telegrams from Washington".

The New York Tribune considers the precautions taken by France on the subject of the commission of experts as quite justifiable. It believes that the United States would act as France is doing if it were in the same situation.

Harper's Magazine comments on the spirit of resolution and the indefatigable labor of the population of the devastated regions which does honor to France and to humanity.

Coolidge Raps New Naval Base At Alameda, Cal.

(Exclusive CHINA PRESS*)*

Washington, Nov. 7.—Proposals for the establishment of a new naval base at Alameda, Calif., are regarded by President Calvin Coolidge as likely to involve unwarranted expenditures, according to a statement issued at the White House today.

It is the view of the President that considering the defensive power of the present naval base at Mare Island, San Francisco, the new base is unnecessary and is also likely to violate the spirit of the naval defense reduction policy embarked upon at the Washington conference on limitation of armaments.

Sailors' Strike At Kobe Is Spreading

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 8.—The strike of the crews, including firemen, of the N.Y.K. steamers in Kobe has gradually spread to such an extent that by yesterday morning all the firemen of the twelve ships in the harbor had gone on strike. These strikers, however, are refraining from any violent action. The main point in their demand is to induce their employers to abolish the reduction in their navigation allowances. Mr. Hamada, Vice President of the Seamen's Association declares that the livelihood of each striker will be guaranteed for about one month during the strike.

Wedding

DANIELS—THOMPSON

A very pretty wedding was celebrated in Holy Trinity Cathedral yesterday afternoon, when Miss Clarissa Berry Thompson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Thompson, of Skipton, Yorkshire, became the bride of Mr. Alan Joseph Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Daniels, London. The Very Rev. Dean Symons officiated and the service, which was fully choral, was conducted by Mr. W. J. Dexter, at the organ.

The bride, who was given away by Mr. H. M. Mann, wore cream brocaded silk with a veil of Breton lace held in place by a wreath of orange blossom, was very charming. Her bouquet was a shower of tea roses. Mrs. H. M. Mann, who attended as Matron of Honor, wore a pale fawn three-piece suit with blue hat and carried a sheaf of yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Margaret Turner, the bridesmaid, wore a dress of blue velvet with silver, lace hat and carried a sheaf of yellow chrysanthemums, while the flower-girl Miss Bridget Mann, was dressed in blue and silver taffeta made in the form of flower petals and carried a silver basket.

Mr. Daniels was attended by Mr. W. E. Anderson, who acted as best man, while Messrs. H. E. Jones and C. H. James performed the duties of ushers. Following the ceremony in the Cathedral, a reception was held at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Mann, 259 Rue Bourgent, and later Mr. and Mrs. Daniels left for Peking, to spend their honeymoon.

Governor Chang. Mr. Franklin refused.

After a considerable period in which Mr. Franklin has attempted to obtain the depositions of Admiral Tu and Governor Chang had elapsed the final argument in the case was set down for yesterday and Court convened with that expectation. When the case was called, however, Mr. Franklin arose, explained the great difficulty he had had in attempting to secure the depositions, and agreed to enter into the stipulation with Mr. Husar. His agreement, he said, followed consulation with his client.

Mr. Husar, replying, said that he was very glad that Mr. Franklin had seen fit to come to an agreement concerning the introduction of the two letters and agreed with Mr. Franklin's proposal that instead of making a final argument the case be submitted on its merits. Mr. Husar, however, said that there were several salient points he wished to bring out and announced his intention of submitting a written brief to Judge Lobingier on those points. Mr. Franklin was agreeable and Judge Lobingier gave Mr. Husar until Saturday to file his brief, and Mr. Franklin until Tuesday to file an answer. Both prosecution and defense have until next Thursday to file any final briefs they desire, but no more evidence will be accepted from either source.

Judge Lobingier will take the cases under consideration on Thursday night and is expected to render a decision within a few day, possibly by a week from Sunday.

CHANG'S LETTER

Governor Chang's letter, received at the American Consulate-General here through Mr. Wang Feng-hao, Special Envoy for Foreign Affairs at Hangchow, and denying that Captain Kearny acted as the 'Advisor to the Civil Governor of Chekiang' or the Chekiang Navy in the purpose of arms and munitions from Russian ships in Korea, reads as follows, according to the agreed stipulation:

"October 6, 1923.
(Received Oct. 8, 1923.)

"Sir:

"On September 29, 1923, I had the honor to receive your letter making an inquiry, at the request of L. D. Kearney's counsel, as to whether or not it is true Captain Kearney went to Korea representing the Civil Governor of Chekiang.

"The office has written to the Civil Governor of Chekiang and received his instruction, as follows:

"Your report received. In March of the present year, the American citizen, L. D. Kearney, called at this office where he informed me verbally that there was at Fusan, Korea, a second-hand vessel for sale and volunteered to take a trip thereto for the purpose of making an inspection and conducting negotiations. My conversation with L. D. Kearney on that date, being confined to the subject of purchase of ship, had absolutely nothing to do with any other question. Until the Russian vessel, El DORADO, came to the waters of Chekiang and until so informed I had no knowledge of the fact that there were between six and seven hundred Russian refugees on board. Prior to the arrival of this steamer, L. D. Kearney never talked over the matter with me and secured my consent. Nor was there received any written report. As I felt that Kearney's way of transacting business was improper, the matter of purchasing ship was dropped and telegraphic instructions were issued to the Marine Police to urge the said Russian vessel immediately to leave Chekiang province. Moreover, no appointment was made of L. D. Kearney as a representative of the Civil Governor or as a commander.

"You are expected to forward this to the American Consul-General.

"Having received the foregoing, I have the honor to request that you transmit the information (to the proper parties).

"With my compliments,
(Signed) Wang Feng-hao"

ADMIRAL TU'S LETTER

Admiral Tu's letter in which he explains that Captain Kearny acted as an advisor to the Chinese Navy in the confiscation—not sale—of arms from on board Russian refugee vessels lying off Woosung last Christmas, is as follows:

"Admiralty House,
"Nanking, Sept. 25, 1923.

"To the United States Consul,
"Nanking, China.

"Sir:

"In receiving your kind letter dated this day, I have the honor to address you with regard to the case now pending in the United States Court for China in which it is alleged that Captain L. D. Kearney purchased certain arms and ammunition from Admiral Stark of the Russian Fleet last December and sold them to me. I shall be grateful if you will please be good enough to communicate the following information to your Consul-General in Shanghai and through him to the proper officers of your government.

"During December, last year, a number of Russian gunboats, fully armed and with refugees on board, arriving at Woosung. The Amiralty was instructed to order them to leave Chinese waters within 24 hours. This they refused to do on the grounds that they had no food, coal or supplies. Thereupon the Admiralty deemed it necessary and expedient to disarm them in order to (1) prevent the arms and ammunition from falling into the hands of the opponents of the Central Chinese Government or pirates or bandits, and (2) prevent them from falling into the hands of unauthorized provincial authorities who are at war with each other.

"At that time, Captain L. D. Kearney was introduced to the Admiralty and, he being an old sea faring man, the Admiralty instructed him to assist, on the occasion of the disarming and or seizure of the said Russian vessels, in order to facilitate the work. Captain Kearney was appointed temporay advisor to the Admiralty which position he held for three months. The arms and ammunition are now stored at Nanking, and the matter was duly and officially reported to the Central Government.

"After disarming the said vessels it was apparent that the refugees, if not provided for, would land at Shanghai or elsewhere in China, causing anxiety and trouble to our Government. The Admiralty was therefore authorized the provide them with food, water, coal and or other supplies and necessary cash for their needs. When this was done, the vessels left Chinese waters. The Admiralty has had no further or other transactions with Captain Kearney.

"The Admiralty deem it necessary to forward this statement and will instruct legal adviser to appear at the hearing of the case on behalf of the Admiralty.

"Thanking you for your courtesy in transmitting this information, I have the honor to be, Sir,

"Your obedient servant,
"(Signed) H. K. Tu, (Seal)
"Commander-in-Chief of the C. N."

The stipuation also agrees to the introduction of a short letter from Admiral Tu to Mr. George Mayer, star witness for the prosecution (also known under the name of Cochran) in which the Admiral refers to the transfer of the arms at Woosung, as a 'deal'. The letter reads as follows:

"Admiralty House,
"Nanking, March 21, 1923.

"Dear Mr. Cochran,

"I have just received your letter of the 20th inst., and I am sorry to say that I do not at all understand what you mean by it:

"I have closed the whole deal with Capt. L. D. Kearney, so if you have anything to do with it, it is he that you ought to see.

"In the same mail I am sending your letter to Capt. Kearney, from whom you will no doubt hear presently.

"Yours very truly,
"(Signed) H. K. Tu."

Madison Square Stoves

No Heat Wasted

The cheerful glow of the Madison Square Stoves is as welcome as any open fire, and these stoves have greater advantages. No dust, smoke or fumes can escape into the room. They are easy to light, and heat very quickly. The revertible flue allows free draught when necessary, or causes the heat to radiate with only the fumes escaping.

SELF FEEDING
The top swings round for filling the container. The fire receives a gradual supply of fuel without attention. Limited space prevents mention of all the advantages of these stoves. We have a design suitable for every purpose.

Report Republicans Would Make The Islands Territory

The Manila Times in its issue of October 30, received in Shanghai yesterday, reports that it has received information from a confidential and reliable source that Republican leaders in the United States will introduce a bill in the next session of Congress that would make the Philippines a territory of the United States.

Such a bill would be a repeal of the Jones law which at present operates in the Philippines, and which gives the Filipinos self-government with the exception on the appointment of an American Governor-General of the islands. It would take away a great deal of the power now vested in the Filipino people's representatives and strengthen the Administration of Washington.

Carlton Boxing Show Tonight To Offer Fine Leather Pushing Array

Tingle---Garcia; De Dios---Tigora, And Favacho---Smith Scraps Sure To Contain Plenty Of Action; Seat Sale Going Well

By Westa

Unless all indications fail the leather pushing party at the New Carlton tonight will be quite the liveliest affair of the kind ever staged in these parts. The knuckle dusters are all worked up about it. Billy Tingle and Lenardo Garcia, who will meet in the main event, are old rivals, this being their third meeting. Their first two battles were in Manila, Garcia holding the fast Australian to a draw in the first clash, and losing the decision by a very slender margin the second time they met.

The Filipino boy contends that he got the worst of the ruling in the second scrap, is convinced that he will flatten Billy when they meet in Louie Ladow's ornate stepping studio this evening. Ever since he arrived here from the Philippines Lenardo has had but one idea in his bean—a return match with Tingle, and now that he has his opportunity for another clash he intends to bust both galluses in an effort to prove that the Manila referee who officiated in their last match was the champion dumbbell of the East.

Tingle merely smiles when he hears these stories about the changes that Lenardo proposes to make in his map, fully confident that he can take the Filipino into camp again.

The advance sale of seats for tonight's show at the Carlton has been very encouraging. The boxing matches of two weeks ago went off so smoothly, and were so well received by the large number of boiled shirts and evening gowns present, that the promoters expect an even larger crowd at tonight's exhibition.

REAL FIGHTS PROMISED

Matchmaker Sam Davis guarantees that all the battles on tonight's card will be for blood. Tigora, the "mad Moro" whom Sam brought here from Manila when he returned from his last trip there, has fought twice since both times against Garcia, losing both decisions. The mad Moro left the islands with the idea of proceeding ultimately to the States, there to pursue a post-graduate course in his chosen profession of pugilism, and the loss of two decisions in as many starts has not added much to his peace of mind. One might go so far as to state that that this duo of defeats has peeved young Mr. Tigora considerably, and that he is out for revenge.

Tonight he will meet Faustino De Dios, the fast little scrapper who knocked Kid Carletos for a row of Philadelphia coal sheds the first time they met, and who later made a creditable showing against Tingle. In the last Carlton show Faustino did not show well; in fact he did not show at all, as his bout with "Joe Carlang" turned out to be a farce.

Here is the low down on that so called scrap: Joe Garlang was not Joe Garlang at all. He was, as many among the spectators knew, none other than Kid Carletos. It was fully intended when the match was made that De Dios should fight Garlang, but Garlang, it so happened, was sailing for America the next day. Matchmaker Sam Davis, not wishing to take any chance of disappointing the crowd on the first night, and not being sure that Garlang would really fight, called the bout off at the last minute. Sam had intended to tell Graham-Barrow, the official spieler, to announce the substitute bout as an exhibition; but in the excitement incident to staging the first show Sam forgot to tell "G. B.," hence the disappointment when it was seen that De Dios and the supposed Garlang were not really mixing it.

De Dios will mix it tonight; of that there will be no doubt. He will have no choice in the matter, since Tigora, being an earnest and ambitious young man, will give him no other choice. This match, therefore, will be a peach, and no mistake.

As to the Favacho-Smith for the welterweight title of China, this is sure to be a lively scrap. Both boys are in good condition, and both are first class fighting machines.

Matchmaker Davis announced last night that two other bouts would be staged as preliminaries, one between Billy Kelly and Mendoza, and the other between Toledo and Kid Walgast. Sam says these boys will keep the fans and fanettes keenly interested during the early part of the show.

The boxing show will start at 9:15 and tickets will be on sale at Moutries up to 5 o'clock this afternoon.

STADIUM SHOW TONIGHT OFFERS SIX BOUT CARD

Names Of Contestants To Be Announced From The Ring

The Stadium Boxing Club will stage a program at the Stadium in Great Western Road this evening, Manager Sullivan having announced last night that a program of six bouts would be put on. The fights will be four and six round affairs, with the names of the contestants announced from the ring. Prices of admission have been greatly reduced for this occasion, bleacher seats being on sale for 50 cents, and ringside chairs for one dollar.

The Stadium management announces that Eddie Johnson, the Oregon heavyweight, will meet one Tom Moore, another heavy, and former British champion of the Asiatic Fleet, in a special program at the Stadium on the evening of Friday, November 16. This will be a good match, "Jim" says.

The Stadium management is still on Knute Hansen's trail, and now makes an offer of fifty percent of the total gate (gross) for a fight between Hansen and Johnson. This apparently is an acceptance of the terms laid down in Matty Smith's challenge, and ought to result in bringing these two heavies together. The Stadium offers to stage the match on November 23, which would give the battlers plenty of time for preparation.

Small Bore Club's Annual Shoot Set For November 14

The attention of members is called to the closing date for entries for the First Annual Rifle Meeting (Wednesday, November 14), also to the "Unlimiteds," which will be run largely with a view to assisting Club funds. It is hoped that most, if not all competitors will send in for at least 5 unlimited cards for each of the three ranges, more if they feel so inclined. In the three unlimited events, 50 percent of the entry fees will go to the Club, and the balance be alloted as cash prizes.

If any member of the Club is likely to be out of town during the meeting, the loan to the Club of their rifles would assist things very largely by making for a far larger entry from the members who are still awaiting the arrival of the new rifles. Will members not entering, please notify the Secertary re their willingness to loan their rifles for the meeting and oblige.

EMPRESS SHIPS WILL CALL AT MANILA AGAIN

Russia And Asia To Resume Island run in March

The Canadian Pacific will recommence regular service to Manila with the sailing of the Empress of Russia and the Empress of Asia, commencing with the Russia which sails from Vancouver on March and arrives in Manila on March 28, according to announcement made last night by Mr. A. H. Tessier, General Passenger Agent here.

The decision was reached as a result of Mr. Allan Cameron's, Oriental Manager, recent visit to the Philippines. On the trip out from Vancouver the Empress liners will go from Shanghai to Hongkong and then Manila, returning to Shanghai via Hongkong.

An important feature of the new Empress service is that passengers will be allowed to remain on the vessels while they are in port in Hongkong without additional charge.

The Empress liners discontinued Manila as a port of call several months ago as a result of a considerable falling off in both freight and passenger business. Mr. Cameron's recent trip is said to have convinced him, however, that the Empress liners would get their share of the business if they resumed the run.

Del Monte

The Del Monte is celebrating the success of their new ballet number tonight by staying open until 3 o'clock in the morning. Mlle. Soretta, the premier toe-dancer who was formerly a star in Del Monte ballets, has been re-engaged as the lead in the new Pavlowa ballet which is being produced tonight. The extended time for merriment will give Shanghai landers ample time to get their full portion of the hamme and eggs that arrived on the President Lincoln yesterday, according to Manager Thurman Hyde.

The ballet girls at Del Monte are full of pep this week as 15 of them drew a horse—Letchfield, No. 1943—in the Champions.

Attempted Murder Charge Against Two Foreign Women Heard

There was a further hearing in the Mixed Court yesterday of the case in which a Russian woman, C. Valia, is charging two others, Mrs. Helene Petkoff and Mrs. A. M. Sproge, with attempted murder. Both defendants, in the witness box, denied the charge and one of them, Mrs. Sproge, declared that the complainant had assaulted her.

Mrs. Sproge testified that she and Mrs. Petkoff had been having dinner together and had returned home at about 2:30 o'clock in the morning. She was about to enter the bath room when the complainant rushed out and struck her in the face. She fell, she said, and remembered nothing more of the fight. Cross-examined by Dr. Fishman, she said she did not know how the complainant's nose and ear came to be partially bitten off. She admitted being under the influence of drink.

Mrs. Petkoff said that she saw the fight but did not participate in it beyond trying to separate the other two women. She also admitted that she had been drinking. Under cross-examination she said that she did not see the conclusion of the fight.

The case will be continued today.

Mr. J. Em Lemiere is appearing for the defendants.

PROF. COULTER SPEAKS BEFORE ROTARY CLUB

Interesting Address Shows Role Botany Played During War

The importance that botany played during the world war was clearly demonstrated by Prof. J. M. Coulter of Chicago University in an address delivered yesterday before the regular weekly meeting of the Shanghai Rotary Club. Dr. Coulter was head of the Botanical Section of the National Research Council, which was created to develop the resources of the United States to answer for the needs of the Allied forces.

Upon taking over this office, Prof. Coulter discovered that the food production was far too slow in its increase when compared with that of population. This was caused, he found, by the production of the same crops everywhere without considering the climate and soil, and to disease and drought. The main work of the council was therefore to conserve the food products by developing disease and drought resisting plants and cereals and sending out botanical physicians to diagnose the soils and plants prescribe the cure. By so doing, food production has been rapidly overtaking population, he said.

Under his direction, the council discovered several important substitutes for surgical dressing and explosive cotton, without which, he said the nation almost had to give up their cotton garments for the manufacture of explosives. Researches also showed that the soya bean gives the largest amount of fighting energy to the dough boys; and large quantities were consequently shipped to the front.

Many other kinds of raw material, which had to be purchased abroad, was plants which grow in miles in the United States, so she need not look to other countries as today all kinds of needed raw material are found in the country.

Mr. W. L. Hawkings, president of the club, was toastmaster. Among the guests present were Consul Stuart Lupton of Chefoo and Mr. Julean Arnold, United States Commercial Attache. Mr. Arnold was organising a Rotary Club in Peking when he was suddenly called away to perform relief work in Japan. He is returning to Peking to complete his organisation within a week.

Incidently, it was made known yesterday that Dr. Coulter was born in Ningpo, but sailed for the United States at the age of four after losing his father by death. The trip took him six months on a sailing vessel. He is 70 years old.

EX-MAYOR CARTER HARRISON OF CHICAGO HERE

Famous Democratic Politician Is Circling Globe Again

Mr. Carter H. Harrison, five times Mayor of Chicago, and one of the leading Democratic politicians in the United States, arrived on the President Lincoln from San Francisco yesterday on a trip around the world. He is accompanied by Mrs. Harrison.

Mr. Harrison was the Democratic standard bearer in the second largest city in the United States in 1897-1905 and 1911-15. His father also served five terms as mayor of the city before him.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are at the Astor House for a few days after which they will go up to Peking until November 23, when they will sail on the s.s. Porthos for a visit to Saigon. After a trip to the famous ruins at Ankor they will continue on through the Straits and India. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison were in Shanghai on their first trip around the world a year and a half ago.

Mr. Harrison was extremely interested in the election returns from the November 7th elections in the United States, appearing in today's CHINA PRESS. He was especially interested in the election of Miss Mary Barteleme as a Circuit Judge in Chicago. Miss Barteleme is the first woman to be elected to the judiciary in Illinois, but her election of the Republican ticket this year was almost certain, Mr. Harrison said, and he was not surprised.

Speakership Battle Is In Full Swing At Peking

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 8.—Mr. Wu Ching-lien's opponents yesterday established a constitutional party, which later requested the Secretariat of the House of Representatives to call a special meeting today to consider the question of the Speakership. The Secretariat refused, whereupon the Opposition leader, Mr. Po Pu-ling, sent out the notices himself. Fifty members of the Opposition this afternoon attended at the House, which was found to be locked. The Secretariat refused to open it; saying that the meeting was wholly irregular but the members present could hold a meeting in the minor hall, which they did, Mr. Mo Lin presiding. The meeting resolved that all present should endeavor to persuade their fellow-provincial colleagues to sign a document denying Mr. Wu Ching-lien's right to the Speakership, demanding the appointment of a new Secretariat, adding that the old Secretariat must hand over all documents intact, and demanding that Mr. Wu Ching-lien should furnish a complete Budget for 1923.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 8.—Regarding the report that President Tsao Kun will appoint Mr. Sun Pao-chi Shuli Premier on November 15, Mr. Sun reiterates that he does not desire the post unless his nomination is passed by Parliament. It is unofficially stated that if Mr. Sun takes the Premiership he will appoint Dr. W. W. Yen Foreign Minister, while Messrs. Wu Yu-lin, Kao Ling-wei and Chang Keh will retain their present portfolios. The Finance portfolio has not yet been settled, but Admiral Tsai Ting-kan, who has refused several Cabinet posts during the last 10 years, may be offered the post.

Peking, Nov. 8.—An official telegram from Harbin states that during the Russian celebrations there yesterday, Chinese police fired on a parade, wounding four Russians. There are no details.

Peking, Nov. 5.—A message reached here today to the effect that General Yang Sen is preparing to throw a bridge (? pontoon) across the Yangtsze at Wanhsien presumably to enable the second army to retreat along the northern bank of the river. Consequently there is much speculation as to the effect this may have upon shipping in the upper reaches in view of the fact that the shipping sea-

Lancashire Cotton Industry Improves; Looms Are Resuming

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—A distinct improvement has recently been noticeable in the Lancashire cotton industry. Indian and Chinese demands have been increasing and also the demand for fine goods for the United States. Many idle looms have started again. It is confidently predicted that the organised short-time for the section spinning American cotton will terminate at the end of November.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, in a speech at Great Harwood, dealing with the new Government policy, recommended the cotton industry to consider the advisability of trying a change which could hardly make the present position worse but might possibly be the turning-point.

Business Men In Canton File Protest With Sun

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Oct. 30.—The Cantonese, through the leading organisations of the city, have finally issued their formal protest against the evils of the day, pointing out their sufferings to the leaders of the present regime.

The General Chamber of Commerce led in the protest, calling upon the Generalissimo, Dr. Sun Yat-sen, and his followers immediately to remedy the evils. The tale of woe includes; indiscriminate confiscation of private property on the slightest pretext, thus evicting thousands of families from their rightful homes; pressing of persons for military service, thus depriving many homes of their heads, mostly rice-winners who have families to support; reopening of gambling-houses and the opium traffic, which is held responsible for the present crime wave; murders in the streets and kidnapping within the city and brigandage and piracy outside the city limits; commandeering of private launches by troops for their own uses, thus stopping all inland river traffic and suspending trade; imposition of numerous forms of taxation which have led to strikes and the closing down of business in many trades.

The general impression in Canton is that Dr. Sun Yat-sen is not so much personally responsible for the present intolerable conditions, and his good intentions are not questioned. The blame is thrown on his followers, and his defeat is forecasted unless he can find some way of controlling them, thereby solving the present problems in Canton. Much also depends on whether he is able successfully to resist the offensive in the East River district.

The residents of Canton have finally decided no longer to endure the recently adopted policy of confiscation of property and the press-gang. The Financial Commissioner of Kwangtung and the chief of the Municipal Department of Public Finance have both tendered their resignations owing to their inability to raise more funds without resorting to the present measures which have raised a storm of protest.

The present Chinese Salt Commissioner, in spite of being Chairman of the Kuomintang Party has also resigned, being tired of the constant pressure for funds. The Yunnanese troops are still keeping in their hands the Canton Government revenue offices, although ordered to restore them to the Administration, but even then they are still pressing Dr. Sun Yat-sen for funds, threatening otherwise to refuse to serve him longer.

Dr. Sun Yat-sen has taken notice of the many complaints from the people and recently ordered all officials connected with public finance to render proper accounts, even going so far as to send deputies to investigate the many departments of the Governments which have handled money. His action, however, has caused some misunderstanding as it is thought by some that he has lost confidence in the officials concerned and that the investigation is a result of suspicion.

In the field Dr. Sun is finding that he has under-estimated the strength of the enemy and that his funds are running short. The present unpopular measures of raising funds are practically the counsels of despair. It is considered, however, that if Dr. Sun can rid himself of his immediate followers, who are heartily disliked by the citizens of Canton, and listen to the demands of the public as voiced by the Chamber of Commerce and other leading organisations, he may yet regain the sympathy of the Cantonese and save the present regime, or at least lengthen its life.

CHANGSHA FREE FROM SIEGE AS T'AN IS BEATEN

Attacking Forces Defeated And Routed From Positions

(Independent News Service)

Changsha, Hunan, Nov. 2.—For the past day or two, a persistent rumor has been heard of renewing the fighting between Chao Heng-ti's troops in and about Changsha against Tan Yen-kai's troops on Yoloshan, across the river from the city. The battle was promised for 3 a.m. and for once true to their promise, the firing began. For nearly three hours, cannon, machine guns and rifle shots were heard. It was indeed a severe strain on the citizens but word comes that Chao's men victoriously crossed the river and routed Tan's men from their position. From all indications, the consequerers are following up their advantage—every available junk was commandeered to take the troops to Siangtan where another struggle may take place. This victory opens up traffic on the Wuchang-Changsha R. R. and on the Siang River.

Shell Oil Seeks British Interest In Anglo-Persian

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 6.—The newspapers are giving attention to a report that the Shell Transport interests are negotiating with the British Government for the purchase of its 5,000,000 shares in the Anglo-Persian Oil Company. According to a message from New York, Sir Henri Deterding, Chairman of the Royal Dutch Combine, in an interview admitted that the negotiations had occurred. The estimated cost would be sixty million dollars if the purchase should be consummated.

It is understood in London that the question has been discussed, but the British Government, at present, is not committed in any way.

Opium Traffic Is Heavily Taxed By Ichang War-Lords

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Ichang, Nov. 7.—The military here have practically legalised the opium trade, having established an "Army Joint Office for the General Control of Investigation" of Opium. A charge of $200 for each 1,000 ounces arriving here, or of $150 extra when forwarded to Shasi and of $250 extra when forwarded to Hankow secures immunity from official interference. Divans pay $1 per month for each lamp.

A new tax of 20 percent on cigars and cigarettes will be imposed from the beginning of November.

Moscow Celebrates Soviet Revolution

(Reuter's Service)

Moscow, Nov. 7.—The city is en fete. Red flags are flown from all the buildings. The inhabitants are marching in processions and bands are playing, in celebration of the anniversary of the revolution.

BRUNSWICK PHONOGRAPHS
Reproduce All Tonal Beauties

The fidelity of Brunswick reproduction has set a new standard in phonographic tone value. Any ear not necessarily musically trained can detect its superiority of rendition.

The Brunswick method of Reproduction is exclusive, scientific, exact. The Ultona, at the turn of the hand, presents the proper diaphragm and proper needle to each make of record. It brings out tones hitherto lost.

The tone amplifier, being moulded of rare woods on the violin principle, avoids all harsh and strident notes. Tones are pure and clean. The voice or the instrument carries its own character to the hearer's ear in all its original value.

Anti-Chihlities Get Bandits To Disturb Peace, Wu Reports

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Peking, Nov. 8—Wu Pei-fu has telegraphed to the Bureau of Military Affairs of the Cabinet to say that according to statements made by a bandit named Huang, captured by the Honan army during the recent campaign, the two hordes of brigands under Lao Yang Jen and Fan Ming-hsin are being subsidised by anti-Chihli provinces to co-operate with other bandits in Kiangsu and Anhui to be active in these provinces. Wu states that unless the outlaws are suppressed at once, they will terrorise the country. He asks that large funds be sent to him immediately for the operation.

According to the arrangement now made between the Foreign Office and the Diplomatic Corps, the latter will notify the office that the salt surplus will be released on the acceptance by Peking of the Gold Franc Case and the case will then be referred to Parliament for approval.

The Secretariat of the Cabinet has sent a reply to the eight government schools in Peking to say that their immediate needs will be met by the surplus to be released by the Banque L'Indo Chine so they must now deal with the Ministry of Finance on this matter.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

November 8, 1923

Spot and forward bar silver were each down ⅛d in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 63⅝ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 444⅛. The substantial decline in the London-New York cross rate is attributed to large offerings of Export Bills.

The only changes in our official quotations here today, were a rise in the Franc rate to 1200 and a drop in the Gold Dollar rate to 68½. Our market here at the opening was firm and became quite strong in the course of the day.

In view of the substantial drop in the London-New York cross rate Banks were no good buyers of Sterling. As speculators were sellers, rates were forced up quite high.

In the early part of the morning some business in Sterling was done at 3s. 1⅝d. for November, 3s. 1⅝d. December and 3s. 1⅛d. January. Gold Dollars were done at 69⅞ for near delivery and 69¾ for forward.

There were always good sellers at these rates and the market steadily advanced until at the close when there were sellers of Sterling at 3s. 1⅞d. November, 3s. 1⅝d. December and 3s. 1⅛d. January.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 70½ for near and forward deliveries and sellers of Yen at 69⅝. Banks were quoting 3s. 2⅛d. for Sterling bills for near delivery and 3s. 2⅛d. for forward. They were quoting 71⅝ for Gold Dollar bills and 1260 for Franc bills.

China sold a small amount of silver in London yesterday, and the market is reported as steady. New York report their market as firm.

Exchange Market

In their weekly report on the exchange market, Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows:

"Exchange:—The London price of silver at 32⅛d. "spot," is ⅛d. higher than last week. The quotation for two months forward delivery is 31⅝d. i.e. ⅜d. up.

Our official rate for T.T. on London at 3s. 1d. is ⅛d. up. Money for early has been in demand and a premium of ⅛d. above official quotations has been available during the last three days—the rate for after China New Year, at the close, is 3s.1d. to June. Silver is reported weak in India and we closed unsertain.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 22,458,000, a decrease of Tls. 2,073,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $34,270,000, a decrease of $2,330,000.

Estimated value Tls. 47,132,000 as against Tls. 66,893,000 held at this time last year.

Prince Of Wales As A Cow Puncher

Baron Renfrew the Cowboy

Here is an exclusive photograph, snapped by a correspondent of the International News Service, of the Prince of Wales, who, under the title of "Baron Renfrew," while at his EP Ranch, at High River, Alberta, Canada. The picture was made as the Prince set out for the cattle ranges, with his own cowboys, to ride herd at the annual round-up. "Baron Renfrew" has already been appointed "Chief Morning Star" by the Stony Indians on the Morley Reservation.

Hankow Market

The British Chamber of Commerce of Hankow write as follows in their weekly circular dated Hankow October 31.

Bar Silver 31⅞ ready, 31.9-16ths forward on 25th October rose in easy stages to 32—31.9-16ths on 31st. New York London Cross rate 449¼ on 25th rose to 449¾ on 29th but dropped to 448¾ on 30th and closed at that rate. T.T. remained steady 11 the week at 3-1⅝d with sellers up to 5-16ths over the rate. 4 m/credits were quoted at 3-2⅝d to 3-2¾d with practically no paper coming out. A few G$ bills were placed at from 73½ to 73¼. Chinese market rates: Shanghai Tls. 97.575. Local currncy $71 35. Native interest 13 percent.

Imports.—Piece Goods.—Market very quiet and nothing doing, clearances poor.

Yarn.—Demand continues active and prices are up. Clearances good.

Exports.—Markets on the whole remain unchanged, but one or two articles, as gallnuts for instance, are in good demand; stock of most commodities, however, are very small. Dealers' price ideas for sesamum seed, tallow and hides are still much too high to permit of business and we do not expect an improvement in this respect before arrivals of new season's cargo get more plentiful.

Analysis of exports for week ending October 26:

Cow hides to Shanghai 216, France 29, Italy 346 and Japan 450 piculs.

Buffalo hides to Shanghai 52, America 276, France 306, Italy 100 and Holland 121 piculs.

The Red Cross In Japan

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS, up to October 5 had raised G.$10,500,000 for relief work in Japan, according to a recent announcement of the head office in Washington, D. C., and although most of this money was used and is being used for relief work among the Japanese people, it is interesting to know that the American Ambassador to Japan, Mr. Cyrus E. Wood, immediately received instructions from Washington following news of the earthquake disaster, to expend all money necessary for the special help of American victims of the disaster.

This special fund which the Red Cross placed at the disposal of the American Ambassador was used to provide Americans with food, clothing, shelter, transportation and loans for personal use and so on. The fact that no limit whatever was placed upon this fund, except that none of it could be used for the purpose of rehabilitating private businesses, should serve to answer criticism which has arisen in certain quarters that all of the money raised for relief purposes in America went to the Japanese and none of it to the Americans who although comparatively few in number suffered equally with the Japanese.

The work of the Shanghai chapter of the American Red Cross has come in for special commendation on the part of the national headquarters in Washington, according to the report referred to above. The fact that the Shanghai chapter immediately got into action and dispatched the first relief unit of doctors and nurses with ample supplies to Japan has served to bring this chapter into international attention and to demonstrate to the head officers in America the importance of this group of American relief workers in Shanghai. Outside of the general relief work conducted by the Shanghai chapter which comes in the ordinary day's work and regarding which the public does not hear, the Japanese earthquake provided the Shanghai chapter with its second opportunity for service this year, the first being the relief work extended in co-operation with the American Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai to the American and other foreign and the Chinese victims of the Shantung bandits in connection with the Lincheng outrage.

The Red Cross unit which went to Japan from Shanghai, although it remained in Kobe but a few weeks was able to do an amount of relief work among the sufferers brought to that city from the devastated districts of Tokio and Yokohama that has gained universal praise. Soon after the earthquake the Japanese governmental authorities notified the American Red Cross headquarters in Washington that foreign relief workers were not needed and that the Japanese would be able to look after their own, but fortunately the relief unit organised by the Shanghai chapter had already been dispatched. The fine story of its work has been told and need not be repeated here. One or the most appreciated testimonials to the work of this unit which has been received came from the British Consul-General in Kobe, Mr. Ralph B. E. Forster which has already been printed in the columns of The China Press but which will bear repeating here, "The Shanghai Red Cross Unit was the first relief unit to arrive in Japan, and under the able management of Dr. Morris Booth Miller and his associates, the work performed has been of highest character. The willingness and efficiency displayed by this unit in coping with this emergency reflects the greatest credit on the personnel assigned to this work. We also appreciate the manner in which your Unit operated in Japan; they came not only with personnel, but with supplies and sufficient funds which they used unstintingly in carrying out their work without any additional burden on the relief committee here."

The work which the American Red Cross chapter in Shanghai has accomplished this year and is accomplishing all the time both individually and in co-operation with other relief organisations in China certainly justifies its existence and its unlimited support on the part of the American and other communities in this part of the world.

Kalgan Again

IT is a long cry from Kalgan to Shanghai, but we venture to think that the article published in our columns yesterday on the subject of Chinese interference with the foreign motor transport business of Kalgan will be read with much interest. The murder of Mr. Charles Coltman and the storm of indignation created thereby, the action of the United States in demanding an apology and the payment of an indemnity has apparently done little or nothing to bring Chinese officialdom in that region to its senses. Possibly this was due as much as anything to the small indemnity demanded, which is regarded in many quarters neither as sufficient recompense to the deceased man's family, nor an adequate penalty for the outrage committed on the flag of the United States. True, it never has been American policy to make exorbitant demands on the Chinese government, but it is becoming more and more clear that this tolerant attitude meets with little more success in weaning the Chinese to our way of thinking than do the more drastic measures of the other powers.

For a time the Kalgan officials were content to remain quiet. Too much attention had been attracted to their conduct, but any hopes which were formed for a permanent betterment of conditions have been dashed to the ground by the publication of this latest information.

And when we come to consider the whole question we find two main factors contributing to the present difficulties. Originated by foreign endeavor this speedy means of handling transport business into and out of Kalgan, stimulated Chinese to competition, the formation of an organisation calculated to maintain a strangle hold on the business and ultimately to squeeze the foreign pioneer out altogether. That, for the time being, the members of the organisation are living from hand to mouth means little in their lives, for, with the elimination of the foreigner and the establishment of a closely organised ring of transport workers, prices would very soon be raised not only to repay them for the thin times they are at present having but to net that profit for which they were in search when they first started.

These being the interests of the Kung Hui, it will be seen in a moment that the Chinese official found it in his interest to assist in the proper maturing of the plan. Foreigners were not paying anything like the taxation the Chinese companies were. They were too insistant that the taxes so paid should be spent in road repair, a subject upon which the officials had totally different views. Against this a transport ring composed of Chinese companies alone would be an admirable milch cow and would give nothing like the trouble to be expected from such conduct until the foreigner has been eliminated. It is apparent on the face of it that the recent regulations preventing foreign transport companies from carrying anything but their own goods as freight and their own employees as passengers, means the removal of the foreign transport service from competition with the Chinese. The latter are allowed to run a common carrier service, the former permitted to maintain transport facilities solely for their own purposes.

It is difficult to believe that this latest development is anything but a preconcerted attempt on the part of the Chinese officials and the Chinese Kung Hui to oust the foreigner from this field which he succeeded in opening as the result of his own initiative. And coming when it does it is singularly impudent. It is no concern of ours that the Tutung is anti-foreign, or that he desires to lay hands on revenues which should not be his. The first worries us to no great extent, the second is none of our business. But we are concerned that having made the representations we did to the Chinese Government over the death of an American citizen, our protests were of so little effect as to be insufficient to prevent other forms of interference with our legitimate business.

We do not intend to argue that we should make any outstanding departure from the benevolent policy which we have consistently adopted towards China and the Chinese, but it is rapidly becoming a matter for consideration as to whether that very generosity which has characterised so many of our actions is not being regarded as signs of weakness rather than of strength. Protests such as have already been filed have proved themselves ineffective. Being such they tend to weaken our position in Kalgan, laying us open to further insolent disregard by local officials who in any other country would be speedily disciplined. Indeed it would seem that the best policy which should lead to the enforcement of our rights would be to demand that the Tutung be removed and to insist on its being done. For if he is to be allowed to persist in his present line of conduct unpunished, it will not be long before the precedents so established are copied in other quarters. The time has come, it would seem, when protests to Legations should be followed by drastic action of the latter and it is clear that the only effective means of teaching the local officials of Kalgan that the course of conduct they are at present adopting is wholly improper is to make the results of such action more apparent to the individual concerned, than would be the mere academic consideration of representations unaccompanied by any demand for the meting out of real punishment.

HAPPINESS A DUTY

In the opinion of a new school of thinkers who have made a study of how one should best conduct his life, a factor for right living that is being more and more realised and considered essential to welfare is the systematic pursuit of happiness.

As Orison Swett Marden says in "The Miracle of Right Thought" success and happiness are for you. If a man thinks sickness, misfortune and poverty he will be attracted to them; the stream of plenty will not flow to stingy parsimonious doubting thought. If you hold gloomy thoughts you will be in touch with dismal conditions. The trouble with us is that we do not have half enough faith in the good that is in store for us. There is so much delight, vigor and beauty in life that we miss for lack of faith. The rose does not ask the sun, as this brilliant writer says, for only a tiny bit of its light and heat, for it is the sun's nature to throw it out to everything which will absorb it and drink it in. We do not lose but increase our capacity for friendship by being friendly by giving abundantly of our love. One must not be forever accepting low etimates of himself and think that this or that joy is for others and, alas, not for him. That is the weak and miserable thought and simply etches the black picture deeper and deeper. As long as you entertain such ideas your mentality will not attract the thing you seek for, and you must realise the momentous force of right thought since every great achievement in this world was first an idea. The weaving of the web is bound to follow the pattern. Opulence and prosperity can not come in through poverty-thought and failure-thought channels. They must be created mentally first. We must think happiness and prosperity before we can come to them.

Plutarch Did Not Lie

BY GARRETT P. SERVICE

An interesting French writer, Jean de Pierrefeu, in "making copy," which is not quite as natural a process as making hay, has recently affirmed that "Plutarch lied" (Plutarch a menti), with regard to the importance of great men. I am not here considering Monsieur de Pierrefeu's special theme, which is the alleged ineffectiveness of the commanders in the great war, but I think that the general basis of his argument is altogether false. I believe in great men. Neither science nor civilization could exist without them. I do not confine this statement to extraordinary geniuses, very few of whom appear in a century, but I include all who rise to a signal degree above the common level.

My belief in great men is more after Emerson's than after Carlyle's manner. I brood no mystical philosophy about them. I do not regard them as expressions of occult tendencies and imaginary forces, but believe in them as concrete examples of practical superiority in human endowments.

Whether we consider ourselves as products of nature, like other animals, or as beings formed by special creation, all done for us alone, we must admit that we continually need leaders in thought and action. And such leaders are found whenever emergencies affecting large numbers of people arise.

"We all have, or ought to have, the feeling that each of us is just as good as anybody else. That is eternally true. But we should not allow that truth to obscure the other truth, that some men and women are endowed with superior qualities, or faculties, for dealing with the affairs of this life. Their lack of perfection does not deprive them of their usefulness to society, unless their faults exceed their excellencies. Fair, open-minded meditation of this truth is the best cure for envy, the most rodent of mental diseases. All carbon is essentially the same and equal, but temporarily some is crystallized into diamond.

A coincidence has led me to this. Having just read Jean de Pierrefeu's attack on Plutarch over the shoulders of the generals who commanded the armies on both sides in the world war, and also the reply of one of the generals—which seemed to me victorious—I took a walk on a hill overlooking the old Burgundian capital, Dijon. Suddenly, across a valley, I caught sight of the church tower and chateau that crown the summit of another isolated hill, which was the birthplace of one of the greatest men that Europe has known in all its centuries—St. Bernard of Clairvaux, the preacher of the Second Crusade.

I am not affected by the fact that St. Bernard was theologically narrow, and that he combated the more scientifically minded Abelard (the lover of Heloise) and drove him out. The learning of one day is the derision of the next, and that is true even of science as far as it rests on hypothesis. But the important thing is that St. Bernard was a magnificent leader of men. He was one of the extraordinary geniuses, who come so rarely. Even though the great crusade into which he plunged Europe wa sa disastrous failure, as far as its proclaimed objects were concerned, it produced a tremendous shaking-up of medieval conditions, a social earthquake, which loosened the soil for th plough of the coming new civilization—though that was yet far off.

Think of a man who wore a monk's hood, a hair shirt, the most ascetic of his brethren, who trod in dusty sandals, who had thrown away his patrician name and title, dragged his whole family into a monastery, abandoned all the advantages of the world, and yet was become a law giver to both Church and State!

In a little square in Dijon stands his statue—tall, gaunt, with bald bare head, emaciated cheeks, cavernous eyes, wearing a long monk's robe that he grasps with his left hand, while his right is uplifted at arm's length, with the long, slender fingers wide outspread, in such a gesture as he employed when he preached the crusade and seemed to the startled and fascinated people and kings who heared him to seize all Christian Europe in his sinewy hand and hurl it en masse against the infidel in the Holy Land.

Led by the modern reaction against men of St. Bernard's type, the city of Dijon has renamed the little square in which his statue stands "Place Etienne Dolet," for a champion of free thought who was burned at the stake in Paris in the sixteenth century. Dolet deserved great honor from later times; but it was a pitiful mistake to think that by substituting his name for that of St. Bernard in this little square Dijon could diminish the glory of the greatest man in her history. Yet Bossuet and Carnot are among her children.

Plutarch did not lie. The world would be a poor place without its great men, even though their splendor is dimmed by errors and human weaknesses.

What Women Wear

Can you think of any way in which plaiting has not been used in the making of women's autumn clothes?

If you can, then you have an ingenious head. For the designers, French and American, have racked their brains in the search for ways and more ways in which to make use of plaiting. Apparently plaiting on the frock or hat or bit of lingerie is the "open sesame" to favor this season.

There are long and short sleeves of plaiting—newer than either the plaited bell sleeve terminating just above the elbow. The lantern sleeve showing a ballooning of plaiting at the elbow is one of the season's novelties. There are many of the so-called sunburst sleeves, both in American and French clothes, and none of these sleeves could be made without the help of the plaiter.

From the straight up and down plaited skirt—still leading in favor—has evolved the two or three-tiered skirt, a snare to the fat and squat—the near fat and the near squat. In fact you've got to be something of a Diana to get away with it at all. Special provision, however, has been made for the fat woman, in plaited skirts. These show straight-lines slightly draped skirts with a single plaited panel at one side, or perhaps a tier of two or three plaited plastrons at one side, or preferably the side front.

The so-called jabot plaiting on the left side of the skirt is in a class with meringues and potatoes as far as fat women are concerned. They—the over-weight ones—have a marked partiality for them, but they really and truly ought to leave them out of their plans.

Ribbons are also plaited and one of the smartest effects in the bustle up to date is made by voluminous loops of plaited ribbon, tied in a sort of sash. On one frock the loops themselves were left unplaited so as to make a puffier bustle, while long ends were plaited and left hanging to form a train.

Ribbon plaited cross-wise is also used to form rosettes on frocks and hats.

The newest way to use the Deauville handkerchief is to plait it.

It is a French trick to buy two of the largest of these handkerchiefs and plait them both and use them as panels covering the back and front of a neutral toned silk crepe frock. The plaits of the handkerchiefs hang down from shoulder to hips and completely cover the bodice.

So much for side plaits.

Now word comes from France that one of the most talked-about sport skirts recently shown was made with very wide box plaits. Who knows but the pendulum of fashion's favor will swing in the direction of this more difficult product of the plaiter's skill?

The blue crepe frock in the sketch shows trimming of bands of plaiting very cleverly applied. Scalloped tan organdie forms collar, cuffs, and a frill above the belt, which is of red leather, to match the shoes.

Blue crepe suit with tan organdie vest and cuffs. The belt and shoes are of red leather.

LIFE AS IT IS

BY THOMAS L. MASSON

INSIDE AND OUT

A remarkable book has recently been issued, entitled "Seven Ages," by an anonymous author, the same one who wrote "The Gentleman With a Duster." It takes up seven stages of progress in the history of mankind, and its great usefulness consists in bringing out into strong relief two great principles of humanity, which seem to be inherent, to lie side by side, in the minds of all of us.

One principle is the practical and the other the ideal. The author of this book shows how some of the world's greatest men can largely be grouped in these two divisions, and how our modern science, on the one hand, and our modern religion, on the other, can be traced (not, of course, altogether) to the influence of two opposite minds—namely, Plato and Aristotle. Aristotle gathered together a vast number of facts and then proceeded to classify them in the hope that he might discover the secret of the universe. Plato discarded material things and dealt with the ideas that are permanent in the soul. He regarded these things as permanent, imperishable, while Aristotle wanted to prove them by research. Naturally, the division between them must be only a rough one, for Artistotle displayed idealism, and Plato displayed scientific precision. But that, in a way, is true of each one of us. We have the opposing elements mixed up in us. Some days we are idealists and dreamers, and other days we take on the atmosphere of hardboiled eggs.

Now this able writer—as all writers must—leaves us guessing as to their ultimate outcome, but I entertain the idea that in the end these two opposing points of view will be reconciled, and when that happens we shall h... permanent peace. In other w... believe that ultimately ... will prove religion to be tru... Of course, when you ask me wh... religion is, I can only reply that it depends on how deep you care to go—I mean, inside of yourself—for that must always be the individual answer. I feel in this respect much like the man who was being shaved. The barber said to him when about half way through: "How is the razor?" And the man said: "Well, if you are shaving me, it isn't so much; but if you're skinning me, you're making a wonderful job of it."

For Eczema I'd Use Lavo

Because the first cool touch of Lavol instantly stops the fiery pain and biting itch.

Because I can now get, for the first time, the marvelous new skin discovery which physicians have used with almost unbelievable success in their private practice.

Because Lavol is recommended by the best doctors and hospitals throughout the world.

Because Lavol washes out, in a marvelously short time, the worst forms of skin disease. Hard crusts, and scales, weeping sores, poisonous rashes, ugly eruptions, pimples and skin blemishes—all yield to a single bottle of Lavol, famous liquid for external use only.

SECTION ACTIVITIES

Xmas is approaching and members are wondering what they should send home to their friends and relatives for the festive season. No more appropriate gift could be given than Ye Olde English Fayre Book which gives a comprehensive idea of the work Women are doing in this part of the world and how much they have accomplished in so short a time.

These books can be obtained from Headquarters or 453 Avenue Foch in stamped envelopes ready for mailing (by the s.s. Malwa sailing on November 13 due in England December 20) for the small sum of 60 cents, the proceeds to go towards the Fayre funds.

The envelopes containing the books should not be closed as they come under the category of "Book Post."

NEW OFFENSIVE LAUNCHED TO FREE WAICHOW

Vigorous But Undecisive Fight Reported Between Sun And Chen

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Oct. 30.—In an attempt to raise the siege of Waichow, General Chen Chung-ming launched an offensive in three directions on October 26 and up to the night of October 29 the fighting was still undecisive. The official reports issued by Dr. Sun Yat-sen's General Headquarters give the impression that everything has gone favorably for him, but the official reports of neither side can be trusted. Dr. Sun is sending every available man to the front, and is even detailing the armed police in Canton City to reinforce the troops in the field.

Dr. Sun attempted to call a conference of the leading Cantonese now in the city yesterday afternoon, but only fifteen out of nearly fifty attended. They were received by Dr. Sun in person. The Generalissimo attempted to justify his financial policy of selling alleged public lands, now held by private citizens, on the ground that most of the lands in question were once public lands and had been stolen from the Government. He declared that he could not carry on military operations without men for transportation service and could find no other way to procure the numbers required than by liberal use of the press-gang. Unless the citizens would furnish money and men voluntarily by their own methods, Dr. Sun said that he could see no other way out. He suggested during the conference that a committee on reconstruction might be organised to assist the government in solving the present financial problems, and intimated that some $5,000,000 would be needed to repatriate the Yunnanese now serving in the Cantonese, or rather the Constitutionalist Army.

The telegraph service between Canton and Hongkong is again interrupted.

According to the latest reports, independent of official sources, General Chen Chiung-ming's troops are trying to advance towards Canton by way of the Canton-Kowloon Railway and some of them have arrived at Pingwu. Dr. Sun is concentrating troops in large numbers at Sheklung to prevent any possible invasion of Canton City.

Chinese Alumni Give Cup To Penn

(Reuter's Service)

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—Chinese Alumni of the University of Pennsylvania have presented to the institution a silver trophy for competition among students or student organisations through the medium of debate or other literary effort, the subject of which is to relate to China. Word to this effect was received today by Provost Penniman from Mr. C. S. Lin a graduate of the Class of 1909, and who is President of the University of Pennylvania Alumni Club of North China.

The trophy is a miniature Chinese commemorative gateway. Mr. Lin suggested that in order to "stimulate more than a momentary interest in China and her problems" the competition be extended over a period of three years. Chinese students are not eligible to compete.
